Itinerary

Day 1: Beijing to Fengning Bashang Grassland — China Horse Town Resort & Grasslands in the Clouds

Depart Beijing after breakfast as your private English-speaking guide and driver pick you up from your downtown hotel, airport, or railway station for a scenic 3.5- to 4-hour drive north onto the Fengning Bashang Grassland. Known as Beijing's closest grassland retreat among the four Bashang regions, Fengning Bashang Grassland rewards your arrival with crisp highland air and sweeping steppe vistas. Following lunch and hotel check-in, immerse yourself in equestrian heritage at the China Horse Town Resort. Stroll through the Royal Stables to admire dozens of prized international breeds—including sleek Arabian thoroughbreds and legendary Akhal-Teke "Heavenly Horses"—before heading to No. 9 Theater around 3:30 PM for a thrilling equestrian showcase blending daring trick riding with dramatic choreography.

Later in the afternoon, venture out into the raw, open beauty of the Grasslands in the Clouds Scenic Area, where rolling green meadows meet an endless blue horizon dotted with grazing herds of cattle and sheep. Ascend to Dongshan Summit as late afternoon sunlight bathes the undulating plateau ridges in rich hues of gold and amber.

Return to China Horse Town Resort by evening, when the complex transforms at 8:00 PM into a lively open-air celebration—giving you free time to join a traditional bonfire dance at Theater No. 4, watch the fiery theatrical spectacle Legend of the Fire Horse at Theater No. 3, and cap the night beneath the stars with an outdoor EDM party and fireworks finale at Theater No. 6.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Accommodation: Hotel in Fengning Bashang Grassland

Expert Grassland & Transit Insights:
Sitting at an average elevation of roughly 1,480 meters (4,850 feet), Fengning Bashang enjoys refreshingly cool daytime temperatures but turns noticeably chilly once the sun dips below the plateau—making a windproof jacket or warm fleece essential for evening shows and stargazing. Because daytime UV radiation on the open steppe is strong even under light cloud cover, pack sunglasses, sunscreen, and comfortable closed-toe walking shoes for the grassy slopes up to Dongshan Summit.

Day 2: Steppe Horse Riding, Hundred-Mile Sky Road & Qiansongba Forest Park — Return to Beijing & Departure

Begin your morning after breakfast in the saddle as your grassland adventure continues with a 1-hour horseback ride. Depending on the day's trail and weather conditions, your guide will select the ideal riding meadow at Erdaohezi, Mangniugou, or Daliubacha—all less than 30 minutes from China Horse Town Resort—where you will mount a sturdy Mongolian steed to ride across open wildflower meadows and rolling steppe hills in crisp highland air.

Next, embark on a 2-hour scenic drive along the most dramatic stretch of the Hundred-Mile Sky Road, tracing a cloud-level ridge route from the South Gate past Hundred-Flower Slope, Yellow Flower Ridge, and Flowing Cloud Ridge to the Windmill and Birch Forest before looping back, with plenty of photo stops where sleek white wind turbines and shimmering groves of silver birches frame undulating green hills.

Upon returning from the Sky Road, enter the tranquil sanctuary of Qiansongba National Forest Park, where open steppe gives way to deep emerald woodland. Spend the afternoon unwinding on a refreshing forest walk beneath towering ancient spruces and larches before beginning your comfortable afternoon drive back to Beijing, where your guide and driver will drop you off at your downtown hotel, airport terminal, or railway station for your onward journey. If you have yet to explore Beijing's imperial landmarks, consider adding two to three full days in the capital.

Expert Grassland & Transit Insights:
For your morning horseback ride, wear long pants and sturdy closed-toe shoes with a slight heel to prevent chafing against the saddle and keep your feet secure in the stirrups. Mountain weather along the Hundred-Mile Sky Road shifts rapidly between bright sunshine and cool mist, so keeping a light windbreaker handy at every scenic overlook will keep you comfortable. Because the return drive to Beijing takes 3.5 to 4 hours and can encounter evening traffic near the city ring roads, schedule any departing flights or high-speed trains for late evening—or let your guide drop you directly at a downtown hotel if you plan to extend your stay.
